

Describe two features of the rebellions in the North, 1069. (4 marks)

Match the feature to the detail by drawing lines:

One feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the death of Robert Cumin.

He was made the new Earl of Northumbria and was slaughtered in the streets of Durham by a band of Northumbrians.

He wanted to become King and came down from Scotland to join in with the rebellions in York. In September he joined with King Sweyn of Denmark in a second attack on York.

Another feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the involvement of Edgar the Aethling.

Describe two features of the rebellions in the North, 1069. (4 marks)

Match the feature to the detail by drawing lines:

One feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the death of Robert Cumin.

He was made the new Earl of Northumbria and was slaughtered in the streets of Durham by a band of Northumbrians.

He wanted to become King and came down from Scotland to join in with the rebellions in York. In September he joined with King Sweyn of Denmark in a second attack on York.

Another feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the involvement of Edgar the Aethling.

Describe two features of the rebellions in the North, 1069. (4 marks)

Match the feature to the detail by drawing lines:

One feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the death of Robert Cumin.

He was made the new Earl of Northumbria and was slaughtered in the streets of Durham by a band of Northumbrians.

He wanted to become King and came down from Scotland to join in with the rebellions in York. In September he joined with King Sweyn of Denmark in a second attack on York.

Another feature of the rebellions in the north in 1069 was the involvement of Edgar the Aethling.