Between August and _____ 1888, five women were brutally killed in Whitechapel, an area of London. The murderer was never caught. There has been much speculation about the who they were. One suggestion is that he or she was a _____ or butcher, based on the evidence and the injuries that occurred, which showed a _____ of the human body.

They were able to get away with the crimes because of the situation at the time. For example, _____ against prostitutes was not uncommon and there were many instances of _____ being abused. London was also very dark, _____ and dirty due to the pollution caused by the Industrial conditions at the time.

The case was investigated by 'bobbies'. In Britain today all policemen are commonly referred to as 'Bobbies'! Originally though, they were known as '_____' in reference to one Sir Robert Peel (1788 – 1850). There were only 1,000 of Peel's police to try to protect London. They were dressed in blue Tail-_____ and top hats.
